As Chair of the Board of Directors for the Invictus Games – Toronto 2017, it is my pleasure to congratulate you on being selected for your nation's team. We look forward to hosting you and 550 other competitors from 17 nations next September. Following a challenging year of training, you will have the opportunity to compete on a world stage, representing your nation. We are very excited to join you, and support you, in that journey.

The information contained in this booklet will provide you with an overview of the sport schedule and venues for the 2017 Games. This will allow each nation to begin preparing their teams for what will surely be friendly, fierce competition among all the servicemen and women. These Games will offer a platform for competitors to compete fairly against each other as everyone strives to meet and beat their personal bests in the true spirit of the Invictus Games. We wish you the best, in the months ahead, as you prepare for the challenging task that lies before you.

TO THE COMPETITORS OF THE INVICTUS GAMES TORONTO 2017

We are immensely proud to be the host of the 2017 Invictus Games. We have a very exciting week of competition and events planned for you and your family members in September. We eagerly await your arrival!

Yours in sport,

James Eaton, Chair
Board of Directors
Invictus Games Toronto 2017

ATHLETE ARRIVAL

ATHLETE DEPARTURE

YELLOW SPORTS occur during the morning/afternoon.
Competitors may enter only ONE YELLOW SPORT per day.

GREEN SPORTS occur during the evening.
Competitors may enter ONE GREEN SPORT per day.

* The Sitting Volleyball Prelims will run beyond the time needed to travel from PAC to MAC for Indoor Rowing. Competitors wishing to compete in Rowing may need to leave their Sitting Volleyball teams early and potentially miss their final preliminary round match. Competitors will have to review the final schedules and prioritize their sports accordingly.

† Competitors in Archery should take note that preliminary rounds in Archery could run beyond the time necessary to travel to MAC for the Wheelchair Rugby Finals. Depending on the final schedule, competitors choosing to participate in both sports should expect to possibly arrive late to their Wheelchair Rugby Finals, should their nation qualify. Competitors will need to prioritize their sports accordingly.

‡ Swimming and Wheelchair Basketball take place in the same venue (PAC). Both sports SHOULD allow competitors enough time to travel to MAC for Wheelchair Rugby Finals, however, any delays in competition, or unpredictable travel issues, may result in a late arrival for Wheelchair Rugby Finals. We anticipate this risk to be low, yet worth highlighting.

§ The Prelims for Archery, Swimming, and Wheelchair Basketball all conflict on Thursday, however, there could be a small number of competitors who choose to attempt to both Swim and serve as a reserve on the Wheelchair Basketball team. Those competitors would be able to participate in both Friday Basketball prelim matches AND Swimming finals without conflict. Archers will NOT be able to make Swimming finals due to travel time.

FORT YORK NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE (FYK)

HOSTING: Archery

Built in 1793 as a military garrison, Fort York served as a key defensive site during major hostilities between America and pre-Confederation Canada, including the War of 1812. The grounds of the fort and the land around it encompass part of an 1813 battlefield as well as two military cemeteries. Today Fort York serves as a historic site museum and during the Invictus Games it will – fittingly – be the site of the archery competition.

NATHAN PHILLIPS SQUARE (NPS)

HOSTING: Wheelchair Tennis

Canada's largest public square is located at the foot of Toronto City Hall and attracts 1.5 million visitors annually. Throughout the year, Nathan Phillips Square regularly hosts art exhibits, festivals and concerts and the summer fountain transforms into a public skating rink in the winter. In 2015, the Square was action central for PANAMANIA, the 2015 Pan Am/Parapan Am Games's arts and cultural festival, as well as hosting the internationally broadcasted closing ceremony of the Parapan Am Games. This iconic Toronto venue will be home to wheelchair tennis and ball hockey for the 2017 Invictus Games.

YORK LIONS STADIUM (YOR)

HOSTING: Athletics

Constructed to host athletics at TORONTO 2015, the outdoor track and its complementary infrastructure builds on the existing world-class athletics infrastructure present at York University. Fully accessible, the York Lions Stadium features an Olympic regulation track and infield and has a spectator capacity of 2,500. The site did double duty as the venue for not only Pan Am and Parapan Am athletics, but for the opening ceremony of the Parapan Am Games. In 2017 it will host Invictus' athletics competitors.
